UCSB Residence Reclassification Procedure

If you are a continuing student, currently classified as a nonresident for tuition purposes, and you wish to be classified as a California resident for a future term, you must submit a completed Petition for Resident Classification form with supporting documentation to the Office of the Registrar. Petitions should be filed within the filing period of the term for which classification as a resident is requested. Estimated processing time for petitions filed within published filing periods is ten working days. Petitioners who file outside published filing periods, or who do not provide complete information, will experience a significant processing delay.

1. Print the PDF version of the Petition for Resident Classification form available at www.registrar.ucsb.edu/residenc.htm or obtain a form from the Office of the Registrar at the beginning of the filing period for the term for which you wish to be reclassified as a California resident.

2. Complete the petition in ink, sign and date. Incomplete petitions will result in a nonresident classification. It is the sole responsibility of the student to provide all information deemed necessary by the campus Residence Deputy to make a final determination.

3. Submit your petition, complete with photocopies of supporting documentation, between the hours of 9am to 12 pm and 1pm to 4pm, Monday through Friday. You may drop off your petition at the Office of the Registrar, or mail your petition to University of California, Office of the Registrar, Santa Barbara CA 93106-2015. If you need assistance completing your petition, you may consult with the Residence Deputy prior to submission.

REQUIREMENTS:

1. Physical Presence: you must have established a physical presence in California more than one year (366 days) immediately prior to the residence determination date of the term you wish to be classified as a resident.

2. Intent: you must demonstrate that your presence in California is consistent with the intent to make California your permanent home.

3. Financial Independence: students under age 24 who are not dependent upon a California resident parent must demonstrate that they have been self-supportive and not claimed as a dependent for income tax purposes for the current and two previous calendar years, or that they qualify for one of the exemptions recognized by the University (see information included in this packet regarding financial independence).

With your completed, signed petition form, you must provide photocopies of documentation relevant to your demonstration of intent. Intent is evaluated as an independent element of residence, separate from physical presence, and is demonstrated by establishing residential ties in California, and relinquishing ties to the former place of residence. Physical presence in California must be coupled with objective evidence that such presence is consistent with an intent to make California the permanent home a minimum of 366 days immediately prior to the term for which you are seeking classification as a resident. Physical presence in California without a concurrence of intent will delay the earliest term you will be eligible for a resident classification.

Relevant documentation which helps to demonstrate intent include, but is not limited to, the following:

* Evidence of your legal status in the United States (for noncitizens). Provide documentation from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (BCIS) that demonstrates your current legal status a minimum of 366 days immediately prior to the term for which you are seeking classification as a resident.
* A copy of your California State Income Tax Return for the most recent tax year.
* Your California Driver License or California Identification Card.
* Your California vehicle registration.
* Your California voter registration.
* Evidence of bank accounts in California, including dates of initial deposit; examples: (1) an opening and a recent monthly statement for both savings and checking accounts; or (2) a dated verification from the bank with your name, type of account, date the account was opened, and current status of the account (opened or closed).
* If you attended a school other than UCSB at any time during the previous year, provide an official letter of verification from the institution indicating your dates of attendance, permanent home address during your entire time of attendance, and whether you attended as a resident or nonresident (applicable to public schools only).

Documentation is not limited to the items above. An individual may have all or some of these items, or may have items different than those indicated above. What is required when demonstrating intent is that those items which are normally maintained by an individual are established in California a minimum of 366 days immediately prior to the residence determination date, and absent elsewhere during all period(s) for which California residency is asserted. All relevant information supporting a claim of California residency will be considered in the reclassification determination. No one document relative to the demonstration of intent is considered controlling or decisive in the residence determination process. The more indicia obtained, the stronger one's demonstration of intent. Individuals are encouraged to establish all residential ties in California immediately upon arrival. Any delay in doing so may delay the earliest term for which classification as a resident is granted.

Petitions will be reviewed in the order received. Written notification of the Residence Deputy's final decision will be sent by mail only. Notification will be mailed to the student's present mailing address as indicated on the petition form approximately ten working days after a completed petition and supporting documentation are received in the Office of the Registrar.

Petitions received on or near the end of the filing period may result in a processing delay due to the large volume of petitions received. Students are strongly encouraged to submit their petition at the earliest possible date in order to avoid processing delays. Students will remain classified as nonresidents, and are subject to payment of the nonresident fee, until a completed petition is received and classification as a resident is thereafter approved. It is the responsibility of the student to provide photocopies of all documentation relevant to his/her residency. Failure to do so will result in a nonresident classification.

Any student who is determined to be a nonresident by the campus Residence Deputy will be given the opportunity to appeal to the Office of the General Counsel. Students with an appeal pending will remain classified as nonresidents, and are subject to payment of the nonresident fee. Any student determined to be a nonresident must submit a new Petition for Resident Classification for any future term for which classification as a resident is requested. A petition may not be carried over from one quarter to another.

NOTICE: The student is cautioned that this summation is not a complete explanation of the laws regarding residence. Additional information is available from the Office of the Registrar. Please note that changes may be made in the residence requirements between the publication date of this statement and the relevant determination date. If you need assistance with the reclassification process, you may contact the Residence Deputy at (805) 893-3033 or e-mail Reg-Residency@sa.ucsb.edu

You have the right to inspect University records containing the residence information requested on this form.

Notice: students under age 24, who are not dependent upon a California resident parent, must demonstrate financial independence. Please read the following information regarding financial independence carefully.
University residence regulations require that a student who will not reach the age of 24 by December 31st of the calendar year of the term for which classification as a resident is requested, and who is not the dependent of a California resident parent, demonstrate financial independence in addition to meeting the 366 day physical presence and intent requirements when seeking classification as a resident for tuition purposes (see Financial Independence Overview on the next page).

If you will not reach the age of 24 by December 31st, and are not dependent upon a California resident parent, you must complete the attached Verification of Self-Sufficiency form and submit the attached Parent Statement form, completed and signed by your parent(s). You must demonstrate that you were not claimed as a dependent for tax purposes by your parent(s) or any other adult for the current tax year, and for each of the two tax years immediately prior to the term for which you are seeking classification as a California resident. You must also provide objective documentation demonstrating that you have sufficient financial resources, earned through your own employment and/or credit, to cover all of your living and educational expenses for the current calendar year, and for each of the two calendar years immediately prior to the calendar year of the term for which classification as a resident is requested.

If all or a portion of the current and/or two previous calendar years occurred during your minority (under the age of 18), you must clearly demonstrate that you lived separate and apart from your parents or other family members, and were managing your own financial affairs as a minor. In most cases, an individual is not eligible to begin his/her first calendar year of self-sufficiency until reaching the age of majority (18 years or older).

If you feel that you qualify for one of the recognized exemptions from the University's financial independence requirement, you must provide documentation verifying this fact (see Financial Independence Summary B. 3-7 for possible exemptions). If you reached the age of majority while one or both parents were residents of California and your parent(s) thereafter left California to establish a residence elsewhere, and you remained a resident of California following your parent(s) departure (see B.8), you must include a written statement from your parent(s) indicating the dates that they resided in California and the date of their departure. In addition, you must provide documentation demonstrating that one or both parents remained residents of California until you reached 18 years of age.

NOTE TO GRADUATE STUDENTS: enrollment in a graduate or professional program, alone, does not qualify you for an exemption from the University's financial independence requirement. Graduate and professional students, like undergraduates, must meet the University's financial independence requirement, or provide documentation that demonstrates qualification for one of the exemptions recognized by the University (see Financial Independence Summary B. 3-7). If you are a graduate or professional student seeking exemption from the financial independence requirement based on departmental employment and/or other funding (see B.7), you must provide documentation that demonstrates that you will receive such funding equal to 49% or more full-time employment during the term for which you are petitioning for reclassification. In general, a letter from your department will best serve as evidence that you qualify for this exemption. Failure to provide documentation with your completed petition form will result in a processing delay, and may lead to a nonresident classification.

Please read the financial independence information provided in this packet carefully. You are strongly encouraged to contact the campus Residence Deputy at the earliest possible date if you have questions. You may reach the campus Residence Deputy at (805) 893-3033 or e-mail Reg-Residency@sa.ucsb.edu
University residence regulations require that students who will not reach 24 years of age by December 31st of the calendar year of the term for which classification as a resident is requested, and who are not dependent upon a California resident parent,\(^1\) demonstrate financial independence in addition to the 366 day physical presence and intent requirements. It should be noted that this requirement makes it extremely difficult for most undergraduates who are not dependent on a parent whose principle place of residence is California, including transfer students from community colleges and other post-secondary institutions, to qualify for classification as a resident at a University of California campus.

The University’s financial independence requirement mandates that students who are not dependent upon a California resident parent demonstrate that they were/will not be claimed as a dependent for tax purposes by a parent or any other adult for the current tax year, and for each of the two tax years immediately prior to the term for which classification as a resident is requested. Students must provide objective documentation demonstrating that they have sufficient financial resources, earned through their own employment or obtained on their own credit (without a co-signer), to cover all living and educational expenses for the current calendar year,\(^2\) and for each of the two calendar years immediately prior to the term for which classification as a resident is requested.

Students must submit an estimated budget for the current and two previous calendar years (i.e., the calendar year of the term for which classification as a California resident is requested, from January 1\(^{st}\) to the date the student’s Statement of Legal Residence or Petition for Resident Classification is filed, and the two calendar years immediately prior), demonstrating complete self-support. Along with an estimated budget, the student must provide objective documentation demonstrating his/her total income for each calendar year (e.g., tax forms, W-2 forms, financial aid award statements, trust instruments, inheritance documents, etc.). In addition, students must submit a written statement summarizing their living arrangement during the entire period for which self-sufficiency is asserted. Students must indicate the specific date they left their parents’ home, and whether they have lived with other family members, with friends, with roommates, or alone during each of the calendar years for which a claim of financial independence is made.

If self-sufficiency is derived in whole or in part from any form of savings or trust, students must provide objective documentation demonstrating (1) when the funds were first established, (2) that the funds are sufficient to meet the student’s living and school expenses, (3) that the funds are under the sole administrative control of the student during any period for which self-sufficiency is asserted, and (4) that the funds are being withdrawn by the student from his/her financial account(s) and used by the student as a means of self-support. Please be advised that the University makes a clear distinction between merely having access to financial resources, and the actual use of those resources for self-support. Loans or gifts from parents, regardless of the terms, during any period for which a claim of self-sufficiency is made are considered financial assistance and cannot be considered as student income. Non-institutional loans or gifts from a friend or family member other than a parent, made at or near the time of enrollment in a post-secondary institution, will also be considered financial assistance.

If all or a portion of the current and/or two previous calendar years occurred during the student’s minority (under age 18), the student must clearly demonstrate that he/she lived separate and apart from his/her parents or other family members, and was managing his/her own financial affairs as a minor. In most cases, an individual is not eligible to begin his/her first calendar year of self-sufficiency until reaching the age of majority (18 years of age).

Notice: This information is intended to assist students and their family members in understanding University requirements for financial independence, and is not a complete explanation of the laws regarding residency. Additional information is available from the Office of the Registrar. You are strongly encouraged to contact the campus Residence Deputy at the earliest possible date if you have questions.

\(^1\)“Parent” - the natural or adoptive parent(s) upon whom the student is financially dependent. The term “parent” does not include step-parent(s) or guardian(s).

\(^2\)“Calendar” or “tax” year - the period of time from January 1\(^{st}\) through December 31\(^{st}\). This is not an academic year as with most types of financial aid or other academic awards.
FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE SUMMARY

Any student enrolling at the University of California for the first time fall 1993 and thereafter, who is not financially dependent on a California resident parent, will be required to demonstrate financial independence in addition to meeting the 366 day physical presence and intent requirements when seeking classification as a resident for tuition purposes.

A. A student is considered to be financially independent if he/she meets all of the following criteria:

1. Is single;
2. Was not claimed as a dependent for income tax purposes by his/her parents or any other individual for the two tax years immediately preceding the term for which classification as a resident is requested;
3. Can demonstrate self-sufficiency for those two years and the current year. Self-sufficiency is defined as having total income and other resources derived from one’s own employment or credit of at least $4,000 above estimated educational costs. Loans or gifts from parents, regardless of the terms, are considered financial assistance, and cannot be considered as student income when determining self-sufficiency. Non-institutional loans or gifts from a friend or family member other than a parent made at or near the time the student is enrolled in an institution will also be considered financial assistance.

A. The financial independence requirement will not be a factor in residence determination if the student meets one of the following criteria:

1. The student’s parents are residents of the state of California;
2. The student is at least 24 years of age by December 31 of the calendar year in which classification as a resident is requested;
3. The student is a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces;
4. The student has a legal dependent other than a spouse;
5. The student is married, or a graduate or professional school student, and was not claimed as an income tax deduction by his/her parents or any other individual for the tax year immediately preceding the quarter for which classification as a resident is requested;
6. The student is a graduate or professional school student who is employed at UCSB 49% or more time (or awarded the equivalent in University-administered funds, e.g., fellowships, grants, stipends) during the term for which classification as a resident is requested;
7. The student reached the age of majority in California while his/her parents were residents of California and the parents leave the state to establish a residence elsewhere and the student continues to be a resident of California after the parents’ departure.

NOTICE: The student is cautioned that this summation is not a complete explanation of the laws regarding residence. Additional information is available from the Office of the Registrar. Changes may be made in the residence requirements between the publication date of this statement and the relevant residence determination date. Please refer any questions to the Residence Deputy at (805) 893-3033 or e-mail basile-m@sa.ucsb.edu

1 “Parent” - The natural or adoptive father or mother; or, if both parents are deceased, her/his legal guardian. The term “parent” does not include step-parents unless expressly noted.

2 “Graduate or professional school student” includes graduate student instructors; graduate student teaching assistants; research assistants; junior specialists; post-graduate researchers; graduate student researchers and teaching associates; medical students and students enrolled in a teacher credential program.
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SANTA BARBARA

VERIFICATION OF SELF-SUFFICIENCY

In order to qualify for classification as a resident for tuition purposes, a student under the age of 24, who is not dependent upon a California resident parent, must demonstrate self-sufficiency as part of the financial independence requirement. The following types of funding will support a claim of self-sufficiency under University of California residence regulations:

- Money earned through your own employment;
- Loans obtained from a lending institution without a co-signer;
- Financial aid loans, scholarships and grants obtained without a co-signer.

If your claim of self-sufficiency is derived from any form of savings or trust, you must provide objective documentation that demonstrates when the funds were established, that the funds are sufficient to meet your living and school expenses, that the funds are under your administrative control, and that the funds you claim are being withdrawn by you from your account(s) and are being used by you as a means of support during the calendar year(s) for which self-sufficiency is asserted.

You must submit an estimated budget for the current and two previous calendar years (i.e., the calendar year of the term for which you are seeking classification as a California resident, from January 1st to the date you file your reclassification petition, and the two years immediately prior), demonstrating your ability to support yourself with the funds you claim. Below is a chart to assist you in providing the required information. Along with your estimated budget, you must also provide objective documentation that demonstrates your total income for each calendar year (e.g., tax forms, W-2 forms, financial aid award statements, etc.). In addition, please provide a written statement describing your housing arrangement during each of the calendar years for which self-sufficiency is asserted. Please indicate the specific date you left your parents’ home, and whether you have lived with other family members, with friends, with roommates, or alone during each of the calendar years for which you claim financial independence.

NOTE: Because determining a student’s ability to meet his/her own living and educational expenses involves subjective decisions which must be made by the campus Residence Deputy, it is to the student’s advantage to submit a clearly legible and complete profile of his/her financial resources and expenses for each of the calendar years for which self-sufficiency is asserted. Following a final decision by the campus Residence Deputy, any student who is classified as a nonresident will be given the opportunity to appeal.

1 Financial support is interpreted at the Santa Barbara campus to mean a consistent and/or significant contribution given near or during the calendar year(s) for which self-sufficiency is asserted. Parents paying school fees or consistently contributing to student living expenses are considered to be providing student support.
